Delores "Dee" Lorraine Copes Bard

Wednesday, February 22, 2006 10:11 AM EST

Of Traverse City, formerly of Corunna, passed away peacefully of cancer at Munson Manor Hospice House in Traverse City on Tuesday morning, Feb. 21, 2006.

Born May 26, 1927 in Highland Park, she was raised in Corunna. Delores was the daughter of Zefferiono Copes of Italy and Victoria Sylvestre Copes of Detroit. Delores, formerly of Reed City, lived in Traverse City the last several years of her life.

Earlier in her life, she married James. B. Hafelein. They had two children. Later she married Carl E. Bard.

Dee was always active in community affairs. She began by volunteering for The Salvation Army in Elsie in the mid-50s. Throughout life, where she saw the need, she tirelessly added her efforts as a volunteer. One of her favorite charities was helping with the Osceola County Food Pantry, which she helped with for several years. Another of these efforts included raising money for Osceola County's first mechanical extrication equipment, for which she went door-to-door for contributions.

Dee's hobbies included collecting antiques, Cobalt blue glass and angels. Earlier, she was a member of the Reed City Business and Professional Club, the Reed City Moose and Osceola/Mecosta Antique Club.

Delores is survived by: her son, Jim (Jane) Bard of Traverse City; daughter, Judith Rose Clarady of Nashville, Tenn.; nine grandchildren; eight great-grandchildren; brother, Rene and Mary Copes of Chesaning; and sister, Elaine Tuttle of Durand.

She was predeceased by sister, Virginia Jones; brother, Carl Copes; one grandson; and one great-grandson.

Delores will always be remembered for her never-ending kindness and generosity. The lesson that she always taught her family was and still is: "To Remember the Love."

The funeral Mass will be held at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church in Chesaning on Thursday, Feb. 23, at noon. Visitation will be 11 a.m. until time of the service. Burial will be in Resurrection Cemetery.

In lieu of flowers, please honor Dee with your love by sending all contributions in her name to Munson Hospice House and Palliative Care, 1105 Sixth St., Traverse City, MI 49684.

Arrangements by Walker-Martin Funeral Home, Chesaning.
